

National Police Appreciation Week
May 11, 2014

In 1962, President John F. Kennedy designated May 15 as Peace Officers Memorial Day, and proclaimed the whole week to be Police Week. This holiday is celebrated in Washington D.C., where thousands of attendees gather from all over the United States. It is a great opportunity to meet those who share a common brotherhood. A number of planned events take place to honor the police force. For obvious reasons, every single police officer in the United States cannot travel to D.C. for Police Week, so it is important to honor law enforcement in our own communities. Our theme day at the Utah County Jail will pay tribute to all jail employees who selflessly work for our protection.

Decorations: The decorations will be similar to our pre-event advertising and will include police paraphernalia and classic American colors. The Serving Time Café will be decorated with wanted posters of each police officer. Each poster will include a picture of the officer and their accomplishments. Also, we will include a large welcome sign that will be shaped like a badge. The tables will be decorated with the red white and blue fruit kabobs. These centerpieces will bring the classic American touch to the party. This will help tie in our traditional American food we have chosen to serve.

Pre-event Advertising: In order to advertise the event, we will place wanted posters throughout the offices in the building. The poster will be inviting all jail staff to join in honoring the police force. Also, similar flyers will be delivered to each staff office. Since the building is small and the cafeteria is in a noticeable central location, a large poster will be placed on the wall of the cafeteria. To make sure all employees have heard about the event, an email will be sent to all employees to ensure that everyone knows about the event.

California Beef Counsel: We used the California Beef Counsel to acquire information about the beef used for the hamburgers. This counsel provides information about the beef industry and beef standards.

United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association: This association provided us with information on the produce industry and how to obtain fresh produce. We used the UFFVA to learn about food safety and quality assurance.
